

April 19th, 2006

It's official! We're online and ready to continue getting the word out. So far we've been overwhelmed by the number of businesses and individuals asking how they can help. In the upcoming months, we'll be better able to answer a lot of your questions. For now, we are organizing ourselves by putting together the necessary information for assuming 501(c)(3) not-for-profit status, as well as gathering data for an initial feasibility study. Our first public meeting will be announced shortly. Please sign up for our Email list so that we can add you to any future correspondence. In the meantime, be sure to avail yourself of the various incredible articles released by the Heritage Trolley association regarding streetcars and their impact on a city. To date, over twenty former streetcar lines have been reintroduced throughout the Continent in cities as small as Little Rock and as large as Philadelphia.

incredible articles